The cause and the remedy

No. 7, Economical Advertising

Economical advertising is one of the ways to reduce our overhead expense. It doesn't mean that we stint our advertising. Judicious advertising tends to increase volume.

We plan our advertising carefully and eliminate exaggerated and extravagant claims. We shun the announcement of "sales" where startling values are sacrificed.

We conserve our space for legitimate and sincere copy that you do not have to take with the proverbial grain of salt.

Through judicious, economical advertising our volume is steadily increasing, enabling us to accept a smaller profit per article.

PUSH RE-ERECTION OF LINCOLN STATUE

Plans Going Forward at Sherrill's Office—New Pedestal to Be Built.

Plans for the re-erection of the statue of Abraham Lincoln in front of the courthouse, on approximately the original site from which it was removed when the courthouse building was remodeled several years ago, are being pushed by the office of public buildings and grounds. It was announced today by Col. Clarence O. Sherrill, officer in charge.

Negotiations are under way with an architect for designing a suitable pedestal on which to place the statue, he said. The new pedestal and foundation will be in harmony with the figure and with the surroundings, it was stated.

Some Delay Caused.
Some delay in carrying out the authorization of Congress in the respect was caused by the absence from office of Col. Sherrill during the past week, when the officer was recuperating from the effects of a throat operation. With his return to duty today he asserted it was his intention to expedite this matter as much as possible.

The joint resolution providing for the setting up of the figure once more opposite John Marshall place, was approved June 21. The officer in charge of public buildings and grounds was directed to expend not over $5,000, appropriated from the United States Treasury, in the work. The statue was removed from its high perch in front of the courthouse because it was thought that it did not harmonize with the building as extensively remodeled under the supervision of Elliott Woods, architect of the Capitol. The figure stood on a tall pedestal which was made to appear unusually high when the level of the street and pavement was lowered, exposing a portion of the base.

LAND OFFICE DIVISIONS IN CURRENT CONDITION

Only Two Units Behind in Work,
According to Report to Secretary Fall.

For the first time in several years most of the divisions of the general land office have their work in a practically current condition, according to a report submitted by the commissioner of the general land office to Secretary of the Interior Fall today. One or two divisions are slightly behind in their work, but the balance of work over current work is being rapidly cleared up, so that all divisions are expected to be current within a short time. The general land office, in common with at least two other bureaus of the Interior Department, has made great strides forward in getting rid of piled-up work within the past year, and the latest report today shows a gain in completed work of the office.

The patent office and pension office are rapidly clearing up cases which have accumulated in the several offices for the past few years, until now they are declared to be at the peak of their efficiency, notwithstanding that applications for patents are coming in to the patent office in steadily increasing numbers. The general land office head reported to Secretary Fall that the number of complaints and inquiries to the office has been reduced by more than 50 per cent within the last six months, thereby releasing a number of clerks for other work. In June 131,705 acres were approved to states under their grants, as against 120,022 in May, and 661,584 acres were approved to railroads against 59,351 acres in May. Increased efficiency in the bureaus of the Interior Department is declared by officials to be due to the Secretary Fall's desire to clean up all the work remaining from the previous administration and to keep the work of the department in a current condition. In this he is declared to have been aided to the fullest possible extent by the employees.

LEAVES BODY TO M. D.S.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Arthur Allison of Chicago, who died in a hospital here as the result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, left behind a note asking that his body be used for surgical laboratory work. He stipulated that only young and inexperienced doctors or students should make use of it. The man, who was about twenty-five years old, registered at a hotel here a week ago, at which time he made his attempt at suicide.

For the benefit of the get-work drive of the White Cross Free Labor Bureau of America, and to pay off the overdue mortgage on the Cosmopolitan Baptist Church, a forty-mile moonlight excursion on the steamer E. Madison Hall will be given next Thursday night. James Ottaway Holmes, owner of the boat, has donated the vessel for the occasion.

The committee of arrangements consists of Van Ray, chairman; Joseph C. Bell, Robert Taylor, Walker Carr, William Griggs, Irwin Lomax, Oscar C. Nalle, Andrew Morton, Richard Hill, John Johnson, William Gordon, George Saunders, Oscar Kemp and Raymond Mason.

KING'S PALACE OUTING.
Store Employees Have Delightful Moonlight Ball on Potomac.

The King's Palace Crowd, consisting of employees and their guests, held their annual moonlight excursion down the Potomac river last night.

After the store closed for the day the voyagers assembled on the 8th street side of the building and posed for a photograph. Chartered street cars conveyed the excursionists to the wharf.

The trip was featured by dancing and a number of sidehills were put on by a few dramatic members of the party.

The proceeds of the affair, which was reported as having been a financial success, will go into the treasury of the Mutual Benefit Association of the store.

The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of Mrs. Luckett, Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Johnson, Dan McCarthy and Sylvan King.

EXPLOREERS ON WAY BACK.
LONDON, July 13.—The mystery of the silence of Brig. Gen. Charles T. Bruce and the other members of the Mount Everest party has been cleared by the receipt of a letter, according to the Calcutta correspondent of the Daily News, saying that all were returning and were in fairly good health, notwithstanding considerable hardships.
